

Palfish- Teach English Remotely

Palfish is one of the best paying platforms for teaching English online. It's solid in terms of getting students right away, it has a great and very helpful community of teachers, and you see the money from classes coming in soon after each class, and it gets transferred to you between the 1st and 5th of every month. It is not a multilevel platform, a get rich scheme, and does not require recruiting.

Full disclosure- I decided to write this "How to" guide because I left my corporate conventional job in December 2018 and started working and earning with Palfish in January. I only work about 3 hours, 5 to 6 days a week. Some teachers do it full time and make full time income and totally live on it. I know there are others out there that want to work remotely or just have a little extra income and struggle to find something legit. So that is why I'm writing this!

To the left is what the classroom looks like. Yes, that's me with the dorky glasses. The student wasn't in class yet, but his /her face would be on the right side.

I am available to assist others setting up their account but please read through this guide so we don't waste each other's time 😊

Click on the image above or copy and paste the below link to the web address bar on your phone. Phone or tablet only- This will not work on a regular computer!

→ Once all your information is verified- you will be asked to schedule your simulated class. This is your interview. It is just like the class and will look like the top image. There will be no student but you have to pretend that there is. Go through the slides talking, circling etc. just like you were teaching.

- Make sure you are wearing a blue shirt (any shade)
- Make sure to enter the classroom before the interview to get familiar with the slides and the functions.
- The star system will not work during the interview.
- Have something kid friendly on the background, remember this is your classroom!
- Do not leave before 25 minutes, stay til 26 minute just to be sure.
- Smile, be enthusiastic, use body language, filters etc.- I am available for coaching if needed!

You will received confirmation that you passed your interview in about 2 days. Remember they are in China and do not work on weekends so it may take more or less but it happens quick.

Once you have passed the interview. There will be a quiz to ensure you have read and understood the FAQ. I copy and pasted to a word document to ensure I didn't miss any.

And you are in!!

Welcome to Palfish!

There are many features on the app that you will learn as you go but here's a quick 'how to get started':

On the Home page of the app, click on

SCHEDULE

You will be required to open 3.5 hours (7 HOT/DOUBLE SLOTS) per week. You can make this daily, weekly or neither, just as you go.

NOTE: You will get a credit $15 (USD) deposited in your Palfish account for Props. Get some cute friendly background, like colors, alphabet etc.

You will get classes right away. They will be Trial classes at first until you start getting regular students.

Always arrive 2 minutes before classes start, never leave before 25 minutes.

Other features on the app will be explored at a future post. I am available to help!
